

Dinner Episode

She split the flat screen and left a crack in his heart, but he still called her babe.
All he wanted was to spend time with her and all his closest friends, but she took his Dundie and shattered their future, like the sliding glass door covered with a blue tarp.
Now he will spend the night with Dwight –
at least he will get a bed instead of a bench
and will worry less about candle fumes
and more about Mose.
She can dream about
that one night
with her assistant,
but there is more serenity between Dwight and his babysitter than the god-awful collection of candles in her workspace.
